

Michael C. Hawley

Curriculum Vitae

September 2016

Department of Political Science
Gross Hall, Duke University
Durham, North Carolina USA 27708

(781)-258-4624
mch46@duke.edu
<https://sites.duke.edu/hawley/>

EDUCATION

- 2017 Ph.D. Duke University, Department of Political Science (expected)
Dissertation: "Cicero and the Origins of the Liberal Commonwealth." Committee:
Ruth Grant (co-chair), Michael Gillespie (co-chair), Thomas Spragens, Jed Atkins.
Major Field: Political Theory, Minor Field: Religion and Politics.
- 2015 M.A., Duke University, Department of Political Science.
- 2011 B.A, Tufts University Department of Political Science, magna cum laude with high thesis honors.
Honors Thesis: "Machiavelli and Publius: Florentine Insights into The Federalist Papers."

PUBLICATIONS

- 2016 "Individuality and Hierarchy in Cicero's De Officiis." European Journal of Political Theory, (available online now, forthcoming in print.)
- 2015 "Newman's Immanent Critique of Liberalism." Philosophy and Theology vol. 27, no. 1,
pp. 189-207.

AWARDS AND FELLOWSHIPS

- 2016 Jack Miller Center Graduate Fellowship
- 2015-16 Duke University Summer Graduate Fellowship
- 2013-2015 Duke Center for European Studies Fellowship
- 2012-14 Earhart Graduate Fellowship
- 2012-2016 IHS Fellowship
- 2011 Tikvah Project Fellowship
- 2011 Tufts University Class of 1882 Prize Scholarship for Intellectual Leadership
- 2011 Tufts University Belfer Prize for best paper submitted in a political science course

- 2010 Tufts University Summer Scholarship
2010 Hertog Political Studies Fellowship

CONFERENCE PAPERS

- 2016 "Cicero on the Problem of Historical Injustice," Midwestern Political Science Association Annual Meeting. (Currently under review at History of Political Thought)
- 2016 "Machiavelli's Challenge to Cicero: Contesting the Soul of Republicanism," Duke Political Science Graduate Conference.
- 2015 "The Price of Friendship: Political Theory and the Costs of Social Capital," Midwestern Political Science Association Annual Meeting. Stephen Morgan: co-author.
- 2015 "Xenophon's Solution to the Tyrant's Dilemma," Midwestern Political Science Association Annual Meeting. Nathaniel Gilmore: co-author.
- 2015 "Averroes on Reason and Religious Authority," Duke Center for European Studies Colloquium on Jews and Muslims in Europe.
- 2014 "Averroes and the Reasons for Discretion," Duke Center for European Studies Colloquium on Jews and Muslims in Europe.
- 2014: "Cicero's Duties and Smith's Sentiments: How Smith adapts Cicero's account of self-interest, virtue, and justice," Berkeley Graduate Conference in Political Theory (currently under review at the American Journal of Political Science).
- 2014: "Political Economy Begins at Home: Xenophon's Dialogue on Household Management and its Modern Implications," Midwestern Political Science Association Annual Meeting. Stephen Morgan: co-author.

INVITED TALKS

- 2013 "Averroes on Esotericism," Duke Center for European Studies (Jews and Muslims in Europe Project).
- 2016 "Satire and Democracy: Parks and Rec and Yes, Minister," guest lecture in course: Literature and Politics."

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Duke University

- "Visions of Freedom" (2015, 2016), teaching assistant to Michael Gillespie.
- "Introduction to Political Philosophy" (2016), teaching assistant to Thomas Spragens.
- "Democracy: Ancient and Modern" (2015), teaching assistant to Jed Atkins.
- "Ethics of War" (2014), teaching assistant to Alexander Kirshner.
- Duke University College Teaching Certificate (2016-2017).

Tufts University

“The Political Philosophy of Nietzsche” (2011), teaching assistant to Robert Devigne.
“Introduction to Classical Political Thought” (2011), teaching assistant to Vickie Sullivan.
“The Political Philosophy of Hegel” (2012), teaching assistant to Robert Devigne.
“Introduction to Modern Political Thought” (2012), teaching assistant to Robert Devigne.

Courses Prepared to Teach

Introduction to Political Philosophy
Classical Political Philosophy
Modern Political Philosophy
Islamic Political Thought
Religion and Politics
Cicero’s Political Thought
Republicanism and Liberalism
Humor and Politics

SERVICE AND MEMBERSHIPS

2015-2016 Co-founder and organizer of the Duke University Graduate Conference in Political Theory.
2014-2016 Co-founder and organizer of the Duke Workshop on Humor and Politics.
2012-2016 Member: American Political Science Association, Midwestern Political Science Association

OTHER RESEARCH

2012-2013 Researcher and Supervisor at the Tufts University Bodin Project, producing a digital and annotated edition of Jean Bodin’s Les six livres de la republique, De Republica Libri Sex, and The Six Bookes of a Commonweale.
2011 Research Assistant to Vickie Sullivan: researching and translating Latin sources of The Spirit of the Laws and reviewing chapters for forthcoming book.
2011 Research Assistant to Ioannis Evrigenis: translating and analyzing Lucretius’ De Rerum Natura and reviewing chapters for forthcoming book.

LANGUAGES

Latin: 8 years' study.

Ancient Greek: 3 years' study.

Arabic: 3 years' study.

French: 2 years' study.